CRATER SMOKES UP.

Rock Slide is But Temporary Plug in Kilauea's Throat.

At the close of last week the crater at Kilauea was again sending up its customary giant column of sulphurous smoke and steam, much the same as before the great rock slide temporarily clogged its throat. To all appearances the stony debris that piled into the crater melted or sank away and gave vent to the heated vapors.

Visitors returning Saturday and Sunday state that the old crater bed, the steam cracks and the caves were hotter than they had been for months. The supposition is that the temporary filling of the main vent caused the heat to disperse in all directions seeking an outlet wherever crack or crevice or lava chimney offered escape.

Since the first big rock slide, reported in the TRIBUNE, there have been numerous smaller cave ins, causing almost continuous rattling of falling stones. This, however, is not an unusual feature of the big crater, as visitors on the brink nearly always say that one of the most exquisitely appalling phases of the spectacle is the grating and sliding of gravel and stones down the walls.

Death of Mrs. George Deacon.

Honolulu, Aug. 11.—Mrs. George Deacon died very suddenly at Waialua of paralysis at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She survived the stroke but half an hour. Her age was sixty years. Mrs. Deacon was the wife of the engineer of Waialua mill, besides whom she leaves two sons, one of whom is on Hawaii. Henry Deacon, manager of Pepeekeo, is a brother of the bereaved husband.

The funeral party will come to town in the afternoon train today and the burial will take place immediately in Nuuahua cemetery. Rev. Canon A. Mackintosh will conduct a brief service at the grave.

Mrs. Deacon's death is a blow to the many friends of the family in Hilo, where the Deacons resided several years. A letter to friends here states that up to the moment of the stroke, Mrs. Deacon was in perfect health and spirits. She was planning for an afternoon drive at the time the paralytic stroke came.

RAILROAD REORGANIZED.

President P. Peck Will Proceed to Secure Right of Way.

P. Peck returned Wednesday by the Kinan having successfully consummated the reorganization of the Kohala-Hilo Railroad Company at Honolulu. The new officers of the company are: Philip Peck, President; John T. Moir, 1st Vice President; J. F. Brown, 2nd Vice President; Geo. H. Robertson, Treasurer; A. Lewis Jr., Secretary; John J. Grace, Adam Lindsay, Aug. Ahrens, Joseph A. Gilman, Directors.

Mr. Peck stated to a TRIBUNE representative yesterday, that the first thing to be done now is the relocation of the line and the securing of right of way. The matter of the right of way had considerable attention under the former management, but in many cases only verbal arrangements had been made. The right of way business will be reduced to black and white and each subsequent step will be taken with the businesslike precision that has marked all that has been done by Mr. Peck.

In speaking of the right of way, Mr. Peck said: "We have every reason to apprehend no difficulty or opposition and expect to close the matter with reasonable promptness. Then we will be ready to let contracts for construction."

Of the nine new officers chosen four are personally identified with Hilo in business, and the Honolulu men also represent extensive interests on this island.

FRONT STREET BOULEVARD.

Negotiations to Make It Eighty Feet Wide Are Under Way.

Frank S. Dodge, superintendent of the Bishop estate, has been in the city the past week on business for the estate. The special matter bringing Mr. Dodge to Hilo at this time is the deal to widen Front street from Hilo to the Waikaka river. During the incumbency of J. H. Boyd it was arranged to make of Front street a sixty-foot thoroughfare, the Bishop estate agreeing to donate the land to make this width. Under the agreement the improvement was to have been completed at the close of last year. Mr. Dodge states that the trustees of the estate are still willing to carry out their part of the old deal. The Hilo Road Board, however, want to make Front street an eighty-foot boulevard, and negotiations are under way with Mr. Dodge for an additional twenty-foot strip of land. The Bishop estate lands extend a distance of 2000 feet. Mr. Dodge is now awaiting the arrival of Superintendent Cooper, who will be in Hilo the first of the week. At that time the matter will be taken up and settled.

Mr. Dodge will also take up the matter of right of way for the Kohala-Hilo railroad through Bishop estate lands. The estate will impose no terms which will impede the early construction of the road.

Adieux to M. d'Albert With Regret.

In bidding adieu to Vancouver, M. d'Albert takes with him the remembrance that he has stirred up musical Vancouver from the lethargic to a keen enthusiasm and appreciation for music that stimulates and elevates. He is to be heartily congratulated on the last and best of his series of recitals, and it is a matter of regret that he has to leave us. His playing requires a knowledge embracing the various schools of music, and it was with a thorough grasp of the compositions that M. d'Albert succeeded in delineating their meaning last evening, working out the themes in all their intricacies through a maze of technical structure to a most appreciable rendition. Neils Gade offered (in his trio Op. 42) ample scope for work of this nature. It was played to perfection. Its breadth of character being superbly treated at the hands of M. d'Albert.

LeBlond Comes Home.

Hon. Chas. M. LeBlond who returned Wednesday from Honolulu says regarding the disbarment sensation of the week: "The general sentiment in Honolulu, among all classes regardless of previous sympathies or factional feeling is that the decision of the Court was severe. The most that was expected by the body of the people was that a reprimand would be given."

As to the proceeding likely to be undertaken by the respondents it is rumored that they will prefer charges of a grave nature against Justice Frear and Perry.

MT. VIEW RETORTS.

Says "Olau" Does Not Know the Andrews Alphabet.

Mountain View, August 13, 1903.

EDITOR TRIBUNE—There would be more cane raised in Olau if "Olau" and others would spend less time trying to write political letters to the Herald instead of attending to their legitimate duties of raising cane, or giving us a decent Volcano road. Anyway, "Olau's" letter conveys nothing but a lot of rot which he could have expressed in half a dozen words. He does not pretend to answer any of my accusations against Andrews. Now, what are the facts? That's what the voters want to know.

The Herald seems to take "Olau's" part, not that that matters much, and asks me to name a candidate. That is neither my right nor my privilege, and as an American citizen I am willing to leave that to the wisdom of the convention when it meets. But I do have the right and consider it my duty to warn the voters of the Republican party against nominating a man who will surely lead it to defeat for reasons I stated last week, and can reinforce with still stronger ones:

If the Herald which seems to be acting as Andrews' campaign manager, denies that he is dicker with all parties and factions to secure the nomination, it is working in the dark. A leading Hawaiian told me the other day that a deal is on foot to gain for Andrews the Hawaiian support, the price being the sacrifice of a prominent official. So much for Mr. Andrews as a loyal Republican official.

How about that garbage contract? Andrews loses $300 a month does he? Well any man who sticks to a losing business which he is not compelled to maintain is a fit candidate for a lunatic asylum not sheriff. But how about his striped coat, victs that pilot his scavenger ship? How much per day does he pay into the Sheriff's office for their labor. Who punishes up for his horse feed? Andrews, my dear, confess. How about these grafts?

And will you explain Mr. "Olau," why was Ben Brown reinstated?

And those saloon licenses which were opposed by the people but which were issued because the Sheriff knew more than the people, can you explain them Mr. "Olau"?

And those wonderful talents for keeping law and order in a community at a cost of $30,000 a year, when two or three good men like Overend and Kelley could keep even the fleas from being troublesome and they are worse than any dagos. Where does Andrews come in then?

"Olau" go slow. Men of you ilk wrecked the Republican party a year ago. Are you trying to do it again?

"MT. VIEW."

KINAU ON DRY DOCK.

Wildier Flagship Will be put in Racing Condition.

Honolulu, Aug. 10.—The steamer Claudine is to take the Kinau's run to Hilo and way ports this week. She will sail at noon tomorrow as usual. The Kinau will be laid up this week to have her bottom cleaned. When this is done the chances for an even race between the Wildier flagship and the Mauna Loa between this port and Lahina will be more even than they were the last time that the two boats made the run together. On that occasion the Kinan, on account of the foulness of her bottom was strictly "not in it". Now, when both the rival flagships will be clean and in good order, the contest for the supremacy in the island waters should be a fair and interesting one.

The steamer Maui will take the Claudine's run to Maui ports this week and for sometime to come, starting Tuesday at 5 p. m.

Admiral Beckley and Freight Clerk Tom Burningham of the Kinau will take the Claudine out on her Hilo run this week. Purser Kibling and Freight Clerk Phillips have been transferred from the Claudine to the Maui and will remain on her as long as she goes on the Maui run. Purser O'Brien of the Maui has been transferred to the Helene. Purser Lewis of the Helene is doing shore duty on the wharf. Bill Jarrett has been transferred from the Wildier wharf office to the head office during the absence of Mr. Littlejohn in Hilo. The steamer Claudine will, when she returns from Hilo next Saturday, be laid up for several months, during which she will be subjected to repairs and alterations. The deck and engine room compartments of the steamers mentioned remain unchanged.

A second league is now being formed in Hilo which will add to the growing interest in the game.
